

OVERSEA FLIGHT MAY BE MADE TEST OF 4 AERO TYPES

The plans to fly across the Atlantic have reached the practical stage.

of development where it is only a question of deciding which of four types of available airplanes to use in the first flight," said Alan H. Hawley, President of the Aero Club of America, supplementing the announcement that the club had gone far toward conducting a transatlantic flight.

The four machines considered capable of winging their way to Europe, Mr. Hawley said, were the British Handley-Page, the Italian Caproni, and two American planes, one unnamed and the other offered to the Aero Club by Capt. James V. Martin, veteran aviator and airplane constructor of Ithaca, O.

It was the presence here of Major Gen. William Branker of the British Royal Air Force for the avowed purpose of arranging for military flights between here and Europe that caused the preliminary announcement by the Aero Club.

The later statement points out that the three best methods for the flight are (1) from New York to Ireland—1,000 miles without stopping—by large land machines; (2) by flying-boats from New York to Ireland, stopping to take fuel from ships stationed at 500-mile intervals; (3) from Newfoundland to the Azores (1,100 miles) and from the Azores to Portugal (850 miles) either by non-stop land-machines or by flying-boats taking on fuel from ships.

AMERICAN VICTIMS OF GERMAN GASES REACH BALTIMORE

Soldiers From Several Sectors
In France Brought to Fort McHenry Hospital.

BALTIMORE, June 24.—There have arrived at the Fort McHenry Hospital the first batch of American soldiers who were wounded or gassed on the battlefields in France. Among the patients is Sgt. Hubert Hill of Texas, who is suffering from mustard gas poisoning. He is still unable to talk above a whisper.

Sgt. Hill was in the trenches on the Verdun front for three months. On the night of August 1 the Germans had been shelling the American lines for several hours when they suddenly sent over a gas shell. The shell burst near Hill, and before he could adjust his mask he was unconscious.

Private Wagner P. Gearty of New Haven was gassed on St. Patrick's Day in the vicinity of Toul. Private William G. Rowland of Los Angeles also was gassed. He is a member of the 1th Cavalry and was on detached service with the Ammunition Train Horse Section at Toul.

"The first night I went out with my ammunition wagon," said Rowland today, "and heard and saw the shells falling all around me. I was so frightened I could hardly drive. However, after the first week, going out at night in the heavy gunfire was just like taking a ride at home."

On the night of March 24 the Germans sent chlorine gas over to the American lines. Rowland put his gas mask on, but it was difficult for him to breathe, so he took it off. When he reached the front he became unconscious.

Private Charles G. Hopkins of Madison, Tex., who was wounded last November at Toul, claims to be the first American that was wounded in action. He was shot in the left arm in a trench raid.

Sgt. Andrew Enstrom, an artilleryman from Fort Hill, Okla., was wounded in Lorraine last November.

GLORIOUS FOURTH AT SPARTANBURG TO BE GREAT DAY

There Will Be Fourteen Hours of Continuous Fun and Patriotism.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SPARTANBURG, S. C., June 24.—Plans have been made for the Fourth of July celebration in camp which cover fourteen hours of entertainment, beginning with a baseball game starting at 2:30 o'clock in the morning and winding up with a vaudeville and musical show by selected talent from various units in camp. Many actors known to Broadway were included in the last draft, and they have volunteered their services, while many of the big league ball players in camp are only too glad to play for the glory of their respective regiments. During the afternoon there will be a track meet and athletic contests of various kinds. The athletic part of the program is being arranged by Harvey Cohn, formerly of New York.

Camp Wadsworth continues to lead all the training camps in the Eastern part of the United States in the matter of health, the weekly sick report of Major J. F. Johnston, Depot Surgeon, showing twenty-five non-effectives per 1,000, against twenty-seven per 1,000 a week ago. Only two camps in the country have a better record than Camp Wadsworth, one being on the Pacific Coast and one in New Mexico.

Everything is ready for the reception of the 4,000 New York draft men who are expected here during the week. Word has been received that the men to be drawn in Minnesota in July will be sent here, and there is a belief here that most of the New York men now at Camp Upton are to be sent here to complete their training. The great amount of construction work now in progress indicates that the camp is to be utilized for much larger purposes than heretofore.

Much interest is attached to the development battalion recently organized here. The main object is to give elementary instruction in English to the foreign-born soldiers, many of whom speak their own language exclusively, and to the native-born illiterates.

They will be sent to their original units as soon as they have completed the school course. The instruction is under the direction of Dr. J. B. Klugmeyer, Educational Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in camp, and Chaplains Smith and Mackenzie of the 6th Division.

Second Lieut. Patrick A. Bolger, Frederick L. Chapman and Alfred E. Glasman of the 2d Pioneer Infantry have been promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant. All are from New York.

Some army officers' wives here have hit upon a novel plan for raising money for War Savings certificates. The distance between the camp and the city is four miles. The electric carfare is 10 cents each way, while automobiles charge 25 cents each way. Some army officers' wives have been making their husbands walk to and from the city on the bi-weekly state which they are allowed to make, and the money thus saved is invested in saving stamps.

They forced a back door and had all the silverware stowed away in a coffee urn, but forgot it. They had eaten liberally of pie and had even made coffee and smoked several packs of cigarettes before they left.
